Expertly crafted in Italy in a mill that dates back over 100 years, Silk Velvet in Fallow reflects a timelessness and refinement that can only be achieved through years of honed craft and expertise.

Woven with yarn that is handled and dyed with the utmost care to preserve the natural strength of the silk and enhance the brilliance of this silvered pale brown colour, our Silk Velvets are incredibly dense; requiring 15,000 metres of yarn to produce a single metre. Gentle brushing and beating of the finished cloth produces a final supple handle that lends itself beautifully to both drapery and light upholstery. Crushing and creasing
