

19TH CENTURY ASHFORD BLACK MARBLE COLUMN

£12,000

Code: 10490

Neo-classical Doric column of polished dark limestone on squared plinth base, with minor losses to base consistent with age and use

England, 19th Century

Ashford Black Marble is the name given to a dark limestone, quarried from the mines near Ashford-in-the-Water, in Derbyshire, England. Once cut, turned and polished, its shiny black surface is highly decorative. Ashford Black Marble is a very fine-grained sedimentary rock, and is not a true marble in the geological sense

Dimensions:

R

H 125cm x Dia. 40cm

H 49.23" x Dia. 15<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>"

Rose Uniacke

76-84 Pimlico Road, London SW1W 8PL T +44 (0)20 7730 7050
mail@roseuniacke.com www.roseuniacke.com