

R

18TH CENTURY ELM COUNTRY CHAIR

£1,800

Code: 10230

The wooden seat was quite usual in the halls of big houses. Tenants would come to pay their rents and to discuss other matters with the squire, probably wearing wet or muddy clothes, so better not to be sat on upholstered chairs (or stay too long)

 England, circa 1750

Seat height: 41cm

Dimensions:

H 96cm

H 37.81"
