

UNUSUAL REGENCY ANGLO INDIAN CARVED HARDWOOD JARDINIERE

£9,500

Code: 10880

An unusual early 19th century Anglo Indian hardwood jardiniere with round, upturned gadrooned bowl. Embellished with layered carved oak leaves on rounded support terminating in quatrefoil base

Regency Anglo-Indian furniture originated in colonial India, blending Indian craftsmanship with British design principles. This style emerged during the late 18th and 19th centuries, primarily for the British elite residing in India, who saw it as a symbol of their presence in India

India, made for the English market, circa 1830
